GYRO INVENTOR DIES WITH 13 IN PLANE

Croydon, Eng., Dec. 9 (AP)—Juan de la Cierva, Spanish inventor of the autogyro, who devoted his life to perfection of "gyroplane" aviation, was among 14 persons killed today when a Royal Air Force airplane crashed in dense fog shortly after taking off from the Royal Air Force, Croydon, England.

Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, who had been in the plane as a passenger, also was killed. A four-engine, biplane, carrying 14 persons and a German passenger named Walter

King Edward—Mrs. Simpson. Alas, Poor Churchill! Fixing Prices Is Legal. Yes, We Have Money.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Only a little more about Mrs. Simpson and the King, the newspapers, fustian spun by Gilbert and Sullivan, promises seem to end, with England reeling for interest in gas masks, Japan-Hitler talks, Mussolini's intrigues, and other details of empire rule.

Announcement that the King approved Baldwin's speech to the Commons in advance, and that Baldwin's speech to the Commons was approved by the King, are working together. Possibly Mrs. Simpson's story is withering from a situation that she calls "unhappy and unfortunate," was prepared on the King's advice. "Sweetest, however, said, "I'm sure you'll be glad to hear that the King would be less pleasant for

MORAN, KANE, BACKUS GET BIG PLUMS

Rewarding his legislative aides, secretaries, chauffeur and others with choice plums, Governor Curley today made 37 appointments and reappointments, which he sent to the executive council for confirmation.

James G. Moran of Mansfield, Republican president of the state Senate, who aided the passage of the Governor's bills, was appointed to the rising commission, a two-year job at $4000 a year.

Moran was appointed to take the place of Commissioner William H. Keegan of Westfield, whose term expires.

ASKS H. G. WELLS:

WHY SHOULDN'T KING MARRY HER?

Author Says Wallis Is Victim of Vile Slander; Assails Reaction

London, Dec. 9.—I cannot understand why there should be all this terrible fuss against the marriage of the King of England.

I find myself in entire agreement with my friend, George Bernard Shaw, about the matter. (Never for years have we been in such close agreement.)

The King, one of the most original, vigorous, modern, public-spirited and independent-minded Kings who have ever sat on the throne, has chosen the lady whom he wants to marry.

She makes him happy, she gives him contentment; she creates an atmosphere about him in which he can most happily and willingly perform his public duties. Very naturally he wants to marry her.

Posse, Dogs Hunt Missing R. I. Wife

Providence, Dec. 9.—Aided by four bloodhounds and police dogs, a posse of 25 men and boys joined early and late police in a search of the woman of Johnston today for Mrs. Helen Milton, 22, who disappeared from her home at midnight, still clad only in a night gown.

Mrs. Milton was said by the police to be suffering from a nervous breakdown. She is the wife of Edward P. Milton, an insurance agent.

BALDWIN HURRIEDLY CALLS CABINET

BULLETIN

London, Dec. 9 (AP)—Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin called the British Cabinet into a sudden, unexpected session tonight to discuss late developments in the constitutional crisis.

By DAVID P. SENTNER

International News Service Staff Correspondent

London, Dec. 9.—A "conclusive result" in his discussions with King Edward over a course of action in the crisis arising from the Monarch's plans to marry Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson will be announced by Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin to the House of Commons, it was stated in well-informed parliamentary quarters today.

Appearing before an impatient House this afternoon, Baldwin for the second day in succession rejected demands for a new statement on the issue, expressing hope he would be able to make a declaration tomorrow.

The premier's announcement was repeated to the House of Lords by Viscount Halifax, lord privy seal.

BRITISH ANXIETY INCREASING

These developments came as London was told King Edward would remain as sovereign and may at the same time make Mrs. Simpson his wife through what a high source termed an "ingenious compromise formula."

Such was the hint authoritatively revealed after the hurried King had given Prime Minister Baldwin his final decision on the course he elected to adopt.

In Commons, the Prime Minister inferentially asked for another 24-hour respite before committing himself or

JOY ST. Station URGED PLEA MADE TO TIMILTY

President John I. Fitzgerald of the Boston City Council called on Police Commissioner Timilty today to reopen Station 3 in Joy street "for the protection of honest citizens in the West End."

The district, he charged, has become a haven and a refuge for murderers, thieves and gamblers, and has become a center for the New England racket and from New York.

Fitzgerald said that the only protection the West End residents now have from robbing gangs and other crimes is the police department, and that the police department has been reduced to a mere police force.

"There never was such a condition existing in the West End as exists now in this district. The place is overrun with robbing and violent characters, heavy without money to keep them while they are hiding out," he asserted.

"Poor Robbed"

"There is hardly a night but some honest resident is beaten and robbed. Even the homes of the poor are constantly being broken into and what few valuables they have stolen."

Fitzgerald said that he sought on Tuesday night to make the district safe for residents by the district. "I am not a politician," he said, "in connection with the call on Commissioner Timilty. I think the public is entitled to know the truth. But make this clear—the situation is so critical that something must be done now."

"The city council president lives in the West End and said that he knows that when politicians are elected to the district they become robbing and violent characters and the police force is reduced to a mere police force."

"The police on patrol, knowing the residents, were quick to discover the entry of suspicious characters and could watch them," he asserted.

"Up to Timilty"

"Criminals can't detect footprints and contribute looking dark shadows in narrow street. It is up to Commissioner Timilty to reopen day street. If he doesn't want to make a full division of it, he can at least make it a station with policemen assigned to protect the honest residents of the West End."

"The building has been ruined," said the Works Progress Administration. It is in a condition and ready for immediate occupancy."

"If the street station was abandoned as a station headquarters unless former Commissioner Fitzgerald has a time it was used as a station then some other suggestion."

He spoke today Postmaster Peter P. Tague told, advising a drawing on the editorial page of the Boston Evening American in which a woman is depicted heavily burdened with "late Christmas shopping" delivery.

"That clearly emphasizes the burden on paper carriers by last minutes mailing," Tague said.

At the same time, he mentioned that extra men were being put to work to handle the annual "Christmas rush."

He again urged people not to wait until the last minute but to mail now and mark the packages "Do not open until Christmas."

GLORIA'S New Life CHARTED

VACATION-TIME WITH MOTHER

In the chambers of Supreme Court Justice Lacey, after the child's mother, Mrs. Gloria Vanderbilt, and her aunt, Mrs. Harry Winston, presented a compromise agreement which is to go into effect today.

Through it the "poor little rich girl" will be in custody of her mother over Christmas, Easter and summer vacations instead of over the week-ends. The agreement was reached by Mrs. Vanderbilt and Mrs. Winston to meet another court battle.

The new agreement, which supersedes the order of Justice Clegg that Mrs. Vanderbilt should have custody only over the week-ends, provides:

On the close of the Christmas school in Boston, I. E. on June 4, 1937 Mrs. Vanderbilt will have custody until sundown on August 15, 1937.

Mrs. Vanderbilt shall have custody for 12 days during Christmas vacation 1937.

Mrs. Vanderbilt shall have custody for six days over the Easter, or Spring, vacation, 1938.

Mrs. Winston is to have custody the remainder of the time.

The agreement also provides that Mrs. Vanderbilt shall have custody for 12 days over the Christmas, or Spring, vacation, 1938.

Justice Lacey requested that the agreement be drawn up in legal form so that he could sign it later today.

23-Year-Old Mayor In Portsmouth

Portsmouth, N. H., Dec. 9.—Kenneth E. Goodwin, who is only 23 years old, today was mayor-elect of this city, having been elected to office by a margin of 500 in yesterday's balloting.

He is the youngest mayor-elect in the United States.

After graduating from the University of New Hampshire last June, he offered himself as a candidate for the Republican nomination, on a platform of lower taxes, but was defeated by a margin of 100 votes.

"I think I'm too young to be mayor," he told the Republican City Committee a few weeks ago. "Ordinarily has been a member of the city council for the past two years."

SEEK RECOUNT IN 4 CITIES' ELECTIONS

Recounts were sought today in at least four of the 14 Massachusetts cities tabulating returns from municipal elections.

On the face of the returns, seven mayors were returned in office, including Mayor James M. O'Brien of Haverhill.

Other mayoralty recounts sought were in Haverhill and Peabody.

MAVANS BY 34 VOTES

Mayor James M. O'Brien of Peabody won reelection by only 58 votes. His opponent was City Councilor Joseph B. O'Keefe.

Fourth recount in prospect was in Lawrence's hard fought school committee contest, with an eight-vote victory resulting to Frank J. J. Harding over John A. Burke.

Mayor Joseph J. Phelan of Quincy was re-elected in a sweeping victory, first candidate for the office ever to carry all wards of the city.

GILLIS IN DECISION

Newburyport's burg mayor, Andrew J. "Boss" Gillis, faced at the first of his candidates for the City Council, ripped telephone instruments out of City Hall and threatened a non-stop strike against the telephone company, claiming it was a device to steal votes.

In Gloucester, Mayor Weston H. Pineda won reelection against 33-year-old Dr. George E. Newell, former mayor for two terms. The vote was Pineda, 327, Newell, 303.

CURLEY ORDERS

MILK INQUIRY

Governor Curley charged today that there are unscrupulous forces at work in the New England milk industry whose activities will result in higher prices for the consumer.

The governor made his statement following receipt of a lengthy report from John H. Penhance, chief director of the division of the Department of Agriculture.

The "beats," Governor Curley declared, will cause higher milk prices through a breakdown of the system set in operation by the state milk control board for price stabilization.

"I have directed the entire staff to the attention of the attorney-general," he said, "I have directed that the necessary steps be taken for prosecution of those responsible for creating and fostering a monopoly, the effect of which would work grave injury to the milk consumer."

CONCORD PIKE FUNDS FACE PUBLIC QUIZ

Concord now an added payment of $10,000 to a construction company for extra work allegedly performed on the new Concord turnpike was expected today to reach the Attorney-General's office and result in a public hearing on the State Emergency Public Works Commission continued to block action.

Officials of the commission, declared that no "satisfactory reason" had yet been given for the payment to Public Works Commission.

Just previously, Commissioner Callahan had termed the sum a "justifiable settlement" and he stated that "the commission" had been approved by the full board after conference with the company.

The new claim by the George A. Fuller Construction Company of Boston, is based on a change in the specifications for building cross-sections in the central area of the project.

Protest has been made to the emergency board by the Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers, Association that the company is not entitled to the change in specifications.

Payment of the added sum would be at least cost for the highway, completed for more than a year, to $60,000.

'Paint' Job

"Don't try to lose your wife," the judge counseled the defendant, who was charged with assault and battery. "Make your marriage modern—streamlined."

Horvath nodded assent, blinking his eyes, both of which were blackened by the plaintiff.

Five Days to Earn Capital Trip

From every town and city the letters come—big envelopes, little envelopes, all kinds of envelopes. It is the biggest undertaking of student mail in the history of the state.

All boys and girls want to win. President Roosevelt's inauguration in Washington on January 20.

They realize that first place prize will mean the opportunity of a lifetime. And they are not to lose.

A work from today, Commissioner of Education James H. Beane, Boston University Professor Robert East, Middlesex and the other judges will begin the task of picking the 25 best sets of answers by the first of January.

hundred questions published in the Boston American.

To the writers of these answers will go the trip to Washington.

Although hundreds of boys and girls have submitted entries, there is still time for the thousands of others who would like to enter the contest to answer the questions and mail their entries immediately.

Roosevelt Inauguration Competition, Boston Evening American, 50 Washington Square, Boston.

There are no "trick" questions. The answers to such are in every history book. Any student can find them. So hurry, write them and mail them.

A few simple statements as to how the answers should be written will be given in the next issue of the American.

RULES OF CONTEST

1.—The Boston Evening American has published 100 questions dealing with subjects of American history. The first answers to these questions will earn the writers five trips to Washington to see the inauguration of President Roosevelt. The awards will be made to 10 boys and 10 girls in high schools throughout the state. Answers to each of the 100 questions must not be over 100 words.

2.—The questions were published daily for 10 days—from Wednesday, November 25, until Saturday, December 5.

3.—Answers to the questions must not be submitted separately. All 100 answers must be submitted as a SINGLE ENTRY.

4.—The deadline for the receipt of the entries will be midnight, Sunday, December 12. Entries mailed will be accepted if they reach postmark not later than midnight of that date. A Board of Judges will judge all entries, and their decisions shall be final and not subject to appeal.

Communications relating to the contest should be addressed as follows:

Wally's Wit Wins London Smart Society Set

By CHOLLY KNICKERBOCKER

The discovery that she was "in" London society both surprised and frightened Wallis Warfield Simpson.

Her months of charity work, during her mourning for her beloved late mother, "made" Mrs. Simpson, socially, in the British metropolis.

Wallis Warfield Simpson, the American widow of the late King Edward VIII, has been making a name for herself in London society through her charity work and her association with the royal family.

Her months of mourning for her late mother, Mrs. Simpson, have been a time of intense grief and reflection for her.

JOB PROBLEM, IS INDUSTRY'S, SAYS CHESTER

By I. K. CHESTER

When the industrial revolution began, it was not the workers who were the problem, but the employers. The workers were the ones who were the problem, but the employers were the ones who were the problem.

The industrial revolution was a great thing, but it was a great thing that was a great thing. It was a great thing that was a great thing, but it was a great thing that was a great thing.

Victorious 'Wings Work New Pass

By RINGSIDE

After witnessing the brand of hockey, which the Detroit Red Wings played in the game last night at the Garden, there is not a doubt in my mind but that more of this may be the holders of the Stanley Cup will be taken over from the leaving the country and the new team to the new team.

Mack Vocabulary Under Strain to Describe Bouts

The vocabulary of Mack is under strain to describe the bouts which he has seen at the Garden last night. Mack is a man of few words, but he is a man of many words when it comes to describing the bouts which he has seen at the Garden last night.

'Cyclone' Taylor Hockey's Best Player

By ART ROSS
(As Told to E.H. Games)

How come I never present day hockey fans to ponder the fact that there was a hockey player whose skill shone forth in the early days of the game? I don't know, but that matter, any of the greatest group of sportsmen, none played hockey in the early days.

My name is Cyclone Taylor. I was born in 1880. I was a hockey player in the early days of the game. I was a hockey player in the early days of the game.

CARRIES PUCK BACKWARDS

Regardless of the importance of the contest, it was a common sight to see Cyclone Taylor carrying the puck while at play. He would carry the puck in the back of his hand and start off with a backward stroke. This was a common sight to see Cyclone Taylor carrying the puck while at play.

One night in Montreal 'Cyclone' went after O'Brien, who was a hockey player in the early days of the game. He made the almost fatal mistake of carrying the puck in the back of his hand and start off with a backward stroke. This was a common sight to see Cyclone Taylor carrying the puck while at play.

Greater Than Caesar

ONE OF THE noblest defenses of and pleas for religious tolerance that have been made recently in this country was made by Bishop Manning at the co-operative stewardship conference of the National Committee for Religion and Welfare Recovery in New York City.

These two paragraphs in Bishop Manning's address are particularly worth memorizing as the expression of true Americanism:

"To our Jewish brothers I want to say that all true Christians think with deep appreciation of the great contribution which your race has made to the religious history of the world, and that all true Christians regret and deplore the wrongs which your race has so often suffered—even at the hands of those who called themselves Christians.

"These crimes against justice and liberty and human brotherhood are an evil aftermath of the World War. They cannot last whether they are committed in the name of Communism or of Fascism."

Sentiments like these, uttered by a dignitary of one great church to the people of another are rarely, if ever, heard in Europe.

The very bases of our constitutional liberties here in America are TOLERANCE and PEACE.

FROM Europe there blows a fetid breath, as Bishop Manning intimates, of INTOLERANCE and WAR.

We want none of it, will have none of it, and shall resist the inroads of the two ogres of INTOLERANCE and WAR with all the just forces at our command.

For we in America have achieved something greater than the conquests of all the Caesars—ancient or modern—TOLERANCE FOR ALL BELIEFS AND A HATRED OF WAR.

Better Pass It Around

THE report that the military and naval academies are prepared to sign a contract to play the next five Army-Navy football games in Philadelphia will not be received approvingly in Boston.

There are many cities in the United States equipped to entertain this great gridiron spectacle, and desirous of being host to it.

The two academies are national institutions. The boys attending them come from every State in the Union.

Millions of people, too far removed from Philadelphia to witness the inspiring, patriotic pageantry that makes the Army-Navy game more than a mere football contest, would like to have the event brought closer to their homes.

If Americans WANT to see the game, why not LET them see it?

Sad News for Fathers

PARENTS of Harvard students, anxious for another taste of college life this year, are to be disappointed. They will have to be satisfied with a dinner.

Last spring, during the Easter recess, Professor Julian L. Coolidge invited fathers of boys living in Lowell House to spend a few days as students.

The men came, lived in their sons' rooms, ate in the house dining room and had a special program of classes arranged for them.

Once was enough—apparently. For Professor Coolidge now says he has given up the idea of repeating it.

Father may think himself just a big, fun-loving boy. Perhaps he is—but not at Harvard. There he will remain a man—and a guest.

Spain Pays the Price

Stay Out in Open

By Edwin C. Hill

Amateurs welcome any move to pay the war debts. They have been gold-bricked consistently by "that dear France" and other European nations—with the exception of honest little Finland—for so many years, Americans doubt that the present lack of payment is due to a sudden sense of rectitude abroad.

Such a change of heart, it might seem, is more probably caused by the fear of another war and the knowledge that Uncle Sam, when he experiences it, is in no mood to send good money across the Atlantic after him.

The obvious hope of the debtors is to make a SMALL token payment, and on that basis to evade the provisions of the Johnson Act and to borrow more.

The war debt conference should be OUT IN THE OPEN. Attempts of European to negotiate secretly are an affront to the taxpayers of the United States who must pay every dollar the war debt nations refuse to pay.
